LANDCRAFTED FOOD™

The Blue Ridge Mountains were once a rugged frontier. The families who built the early communities in this region worked the land - and made the land work for them. They were self-sufficient and sustainable by necessity, harvesting a livelihood from these valleys and mountains.

At Landcrafted Food, we honor their tradition, by providing our friends and families with the best the land has to offer.

Our cattle are born and raised on sustainable family farms, in and around Grayson County, Virginia. We are firm believers that returning to the simplest, most traditional animal husbandry and processing methods yields the best tasting, most healthy foods - just like folks enjoyed generations ago.
